

Contributors

Contributors to the 2023 Sustainability Ideas Bank

We are very grateful to Bristol Myers Squibb for its financial support and to the many interns who have helped develop the latest edition of the Sustainability Ideas Bank: Jacob Reed of Tulane University; Winson Cheng of Stanford University; Devin Ferguson of Sonoma State University; Rishabh Sablok of Queens University, Ontario, Canada; Adam Azevedo, Colin Cham, Ilarion Kovatchev, Joshua Rezneck and Davis Turner of The Nueva School; Coraline Haggarty and Stella Wettan of Burlingame High; and Sebastien Ludwig of Aragon High School. We also thank Robert Lipscomb for providing an editorial review of the 2023 Sustainability Ideas Bank.

Past Contributors to the Sustainability Ideas Bank

We greatly appreciate the Gratitude Giving Circle and numerous individual donors who have funded this project since 2020. We also want to thank the many other interns and volunteers who have helped develop the Sustainability Ideas Bank in the early years: Lizzie Avila, Winson Cheng, Gabrielle Crooks, Tori Flowers, Anya Goeders, Mishika Govil, Evian Jiang, Kai Kato, Megan King, David Lee, Acacia Lynch, Neil Nathan, Marie Riviere, Nikita Salunke, Pearl Shing-Roth, Haley Stafford, Calista Triantis and Kelly Wang of Stanford University; Sebastien Ludwig of Aragon High School; Etaash Patel and Davis Turner of The Nueva School; and Ryan Donnelly of Sequoia High School.